

PRESS RELEASE

NUNZIANTE MAGRONE has advised CDP Venture Capital on a Euro 2.1million fundraising for Macingo – an Italian leader in the transportation of goods. Macingo and the partners of the company were advised by LEXIA AVVOCATI.

ROME | August 4th, 2022 -. Nunziant Magrone has advised CDP Venture Capital with a € 2.1 million investment in the Calabrian startup Macingo, a market leader in the Italian freight transportation sector.

This funding was led by CDP Venture Capital, through its Italia Venture II Fund - Fondo Imprese Sud, together with the existing shareholders of Macingo, Digital Magics and Mekar, who also increased their investment. Macingo and its partners were assisted by Lexia Avvocati.

Macingo, which was established in 2016, has exceeded 1 million clients and is launching a European expansion plan as 20% of the requests for service come from there. The Company, through its network of transporters affiliated through the platform, allows clients to organize and purchase the transportation of bulky goods with just a few clicks (such as cars and motorcycles, furniture, pianos, boats and industrial products) and, thanks to an alliance with the French multinational Stef, it is the first Italian website to "sell" the transportation of refrigerated goods.

This capital injection is aimed at the internationalization of the business, with a particular focus on the Spanish and French markets, as well as the consolidation of Macingo's presence in Italy.

Nunziant Magrone advised CDP Venture Capital on the legal aspects relating to the structuring of the investment round, with a team made up of Partners Gianmatteo Nunziant and Priscilla Merlino.

CDP Venture Capital followed this matter with their internal legal team headed by Alessandro di Gioia. Elisa Toriello, Debora Perciballi, Gabriele Petrini, Angela Malizia and Matteo Fittante also were on the internal legal team following this matter.

Macingo and the shareholders of the company, including Digital Magic and Mekar, were instead followed by the Lexia Avvocati law firm with a team composed of Francesco Dagnino and Fabio Luongo.

NUNZIANTE MAGRONE is an established multi-practice Italian law firm with a team of 70+ professionals based in Milan, Rome, and Bologna.

The Firm advises both domestic and international clients on M&A and corporate law, commercial contracts, employment, IP, litigation, public law, real estate, banking & finance, tax as well as other legal areas relevant to business.

For more information contact:
Daniela Spiantini
marketing@nmlex.it
+39 02 657 5181