

COMUNICATO STAMPA

NUNZIANTE MAGRONE presents the new focus team for ESG

A multidisciplinary task force designed to support clients throughout their journey towards sustainability and certification.

Milan, March 6, 2024 – The Law Firm launches a new interdisciplinary focus team dedicated to ESG matters, with the aim of providing clients with dedicated advice and a whole range of services that are fundamental to support companies on their path to sustainability.

The team, composed of Partner Giulia Leardi and Of Counsels Antonio Longo and Alessandro Ronchi, forms a multi-disciplinary task force in which specific expertise in Employment Law, Insurance, and Privacy & IT is brought together to offer the firm's clients comprehensive advice tailored to their specific needs and sector of activity.

The services offered by the focus team cover various areas of law. These services range from the assessment of regulatory compliance to the development of policies and procedures. Additionally, the team assists with preparation for audit for certification, conducts social impact analyses of business operations, and provides impact analysis and solutions on insurance and insurance brokerage. Furthermore, they offer services in risk management and data security, including Privacy Impact Assessments (PIA).

"Attention to ESG factors has now become crucial for companies, as evidenced by the continuously increasing numbers that certifications, such as those related to Gender Equality, have been registering in recent months," reports Niccolò Ferretti, Founding Partner of Nunziante Magrone. "Therefore, we have decided to channel our expertise and know-how into a dedicated interdisciplinary team, which has enabled us to achieve a significant track record of assisting companies and other entities on their journey towards sustainability and certification attainment".

"Being a sustainable and certified company nowadays represents not only an act of responsibility and an ethical goal, but also an added value in terms of business and competitiveness in the market", adds Giulia Leardi. "Adhering to ESG factors and investing in them allows companies to increase their brand awareness, resulting in direct positive repercussions on revenues. Moreover, it enables easier access to calls for tenders and competitions due to higher rankings, and facilitates interaction with similarly virtuous companies, leading to reciprocal benefits".

NUNZIANTE MAGRONE is an established multi-practice Italian law firm with a team of 80+ professionals based in Milan, Rome, and Bologna.

The Firm advises both domestic and international clients on M&A and corporate law, commercial contracts, employment, IP, litigation, public law, real estate, banking & finance, tax as well as other legal areas relevant to business.

For more information contact:

Daniela Spiantini
marketing@nmlx.it
+39 02 657 5181